

MAGINNIS HERE FOR VACATION

Former Minister to Bolivia Returns Home for Brief Rest

S. Abbott Maginnis, former Ogden attorney and until last year United States minister to Bolivia, is in Ogden on a vacation visiting his family and his brother, T. J. Maginnis, attorney and United States commissioner. Mr. Maginnis will remain in Utah two or three weeks before returning to New York where he is now making his headquarters.

Before coming west a few days ago, Mr. Maginnis represented the Bolivian government in obtaining a loan of $24,000,000 from the United States for use in that country for the refund of external obligations and building of railroads. The $24,000,000 loan is the first of the bond issues to be made in the future.

With the completion of the loan, Mr. Maginnis said he terminated his services with the Bolivian government for the time at least and his plans upon his return to New York are indefinite.

General conditions in the eastern states are showing gradual improvement, he said, and the employment situation has been greatly relieved during the last few months. The coal strike has not yet affected eastern industries to any great extent. The crisis, if any comes, is expected in the fall of the year.

Eastern Democrats predict a Democratic landslide this fall, Mr. Maginnis said, "with the feeling of dissatisfaction over the Republican administration rapidly growing and magnified as a result of the unfulfilled promises of that party and the high protective tariff."

U. S. CHIEF LOOKS OVER POWER SITES

Major H. S. Bennion, assistant chief engineer of the federal power commission with headquarters at Washington, arrived in Ogden yesterday afternoon for a conference with District Engineer J. P. Martin of district four of the forest service relative to power projects in the district.

He had already visited the power plant of the Utah Power & Light company on the Bear river and also the power plant in Flaming Gorge on the Green river.

He left last night for various points in Idaho to look over power projects. He will also visit the power project of the Idaho Power company on the Snake river.

He discussed power permits for the use of water power in the national forests and also power licenses with District Engineer Martin while in Ogden yesterday.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to tender our sincere thanks and gratitude of our hearts to the many friends and neighbors for the sympathy and kind feelings extended to us in our sad bereavement in the loss of our dear son and brother, Leland, also for the many beautiful floral offerings, and to those who rendered the beautiful singing and to the speakers for the kind words of comfort and condolence, and may our heavenly Father bless you in your hour of need and sorrow.

Faithfully yours,
MR. AND MRS. J. H. WILLIAMS

'INSIDE FACTS' ON RUSS BARED

Observer's Report Given to Delegation Chiefs at The Hague

THE HAGUE, June 27.—The Associated Press has obtained, with permission to publish, a copy of a private report on Russia which will be distributed to the chiefs of the delegations from non-Russian countries. This report embodies the views of a prominent and competent European observer of liberal tendencies, who recently came from Russia after making a thorough investigation of the political conditions there.

The report contains ten paragraphs remarkable for their brevity. The name of the investigator is withheld by agreement. The "ten points" follow:

First—Barring unforeseen events, the soviet regime is not near collapse, their most ardent adversaries, the Socialists, think they may continue in power for another 10 years.

Second—The economic exhaustion of Russia is complete, and admitted by the Soviets. All power of purchase has disappeared.

Third—The Soviets are divided among themselves and internal struggles have begun.

Fourth—Hatred of the old regime is general among the people.

Fifth—Blockade and foreign military aggression have maintained the Soviets in power, but resumption of contact with Europe will destroy them and accelerate their evolution in the direction of conservatism.

Sixth—The Soviets recognize without hesitation that only the foreigner can reconstruct Russia.

Seventh—For the moment the intransigent faction of the Soviets triumphs.

Eighth—Lithuania does not arrive with conciliatory intentions.

Ninth—The Russian Socialists would adhere immediately to sovietism if they could obtain the right to vote, the secret vote and liberty of speech and the press. But the Socialists are inclined to refuse the franchise to the bourgeoisie.

Tenth—The blockade and foreign military interventions have developed very powerful nationalism and enophobia in Russia.

"The world," says the report, "must keep these facts in mind."

Memorial for Missionary to Be Held Sunday

CLERMONT A. QBORN

Memorial services for Clermont A. Qborn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Heber C. Qborn, 1141 Twenty-third street, who died while on a mission on the Haapala island, in the Tonga mission, May 11, will be held Sunday at 7 p. m. in the Thirteenth ward chapel.

David O. McKay, who met the deceased missionary during his recent trip around the world, will deliver the memorial address. Bishop Jenkins will conduct the service.

Special music will be rendered by the ward choir, Miss Mary Fisher, Mrs. Ethel Bagges, William H. Manning, Gerard Klomp, Joseph Madsen, William Furdie and William T. Pickett.

The young missionary died of typhoid fever and was buried on the island where he had labored since November 17, 1920.

GREELEY TO TOUR DIST. 4 FORESTS

Col. W. E. Greeley, chief forester of the United States forest service, will leave Salt Lake tomorrow night for Provo on a tour of inspection of the national forests in district four.

He will be met later on by District Forester R. H. Rutledge, who will accompany him on the inspection tour.

Col. Greeley will pay particular attention to what is being done to prepare the western forests for the increasing demand for lumber, what is being done in fire protection and fire prevention and what is being done along the line of grazing studies and grazing management in the forest ranges.

He expects to be in district four until the middle of July.

FOREST OFFICIALS GOING TO CHEYENNE

District Forester R. H. Rutledge of district four of the forest service and District Engineer J. P. Martin will go to Cheyenne, Wyo., tomorrow night to attend a conference of the state highway commission at that place relative to the building of the Star Valley highway, the last link in the direct route from Ogden to the southern entrance of the Yellowstone National park. While there they will also discuss other road projects.

MERCURY GOES TO 99 HERE MONDAY

The mercury in Ogden reached 89 degrees yesterday at its highest point, according to the record taken by Charles Bass, local weather observer. Today promises much cooler temperatures, a breeze having kept the mercury down until afternoon.

The minimum temperature last night was 63 degrees. Fair skies and cooler temperatures are promised for tomorrow.

SENATOR KING IS RECEPTIVE

Associates Let It Be Known Democratic Solon Will Enter Race

After much uncertainty as to whether or not Senator William H. King would be a candidate to succeed himself, close friends and associates of the senator today made it known in Ogden that if Senator King is offered the nomination, he will be happy to accept and make a vigorous campaign for reelection.

Sensor King advises his friends that he is in no way seeking the nomination, and feels that in justice to himself he should resume his practice of law and take care of his personal interests. He expects to return to Utah in the course of a short time when he will confer with Democratic party leaders, respecting the campaign.

He further states that he is appreciative of the political honors conferred upon him and that he will not shirk his political duty to do all in his power for Democratic success.

MOTHER PLEADS FOR SON BEFORE COURT

Ross Hendrickson, former Ogden taxicab driver, was cited into court by his former wife, Josephine Hendrickson, to show cause why he has not supported her in compliance with the decree issued January 19, 1934, before Judge George S. Barker when his name was called this morning.

His mother, Mrs. L. M. Hendrickson, appeared, however, and explained that her son was away from the city in search for work. She also explained that his failure to provide for his former wife and child was due to his being ill recently with scarlet fever.

Hendrickson was in the county jail last year as a result of his alleged connection with a night ride in Ogden canyon in which Sammy Addison and others were charged with having attacked a young girl. Addison is now serving a term in the state prison.

The case against Hendrickson was dismissed after several months.

While Hendrickson was in jail his young wife filed suit for divorce, which was granted January 10 last. The court ordered him to pay $50 a month for the support of his wife and child.

After Mrs. Hendrickson had testified this morning Judge Barker continued the case until a later date. He said that in his opinion Hendrickson was trying to evade the court order, and while he might have been temporarily incapacitated he could find some kind of work if he showed the right disposition. Judge Barker said that definite steps will be taken if Hendrickson does not soon furnish the support for his former wife and his child.

He was attended by Dr. J. R. Morrell and then taken to his home.

ARMOLD BEGINS LECTURES HERE

Perry B. Arnold, business analyst of Cleveland, Ohio, opened his series of lectures on salesmanship and business efficiency last night at the Central Junior high school before a large audience.

Mr. Arnold took the word "Salesmanship" and said he would divide it into three parts—salesman, ship. He then gave an intensely interesting and impressive talk upon the three subjects. Mr. Arnold then gave a practical demonstration on how to develop memory.

The subject tonight is "Personality and How to Develop It," which begins at 7:30 o'clock.
